Rules and Guidelines

Stands, trusses or other equipment that may clutter the passage for the public in the hall are not allowed.

No obstacles, limitations, variations to the public routes and to the normal access and exit routes, to the emergency exits of the hall and the stage are allowed.

Effects that require real combustion (torches, candles, burning lights, etc.) or toxic or irritating emanations are not allowed during the show.

The use of open flames during the shows is prohibited (except for any needs related to the representation, which must be agreed in advance with the Technical Management and Administrative Management of the Municipality of Chivasso).

You can't introduce animals into the theater.

It's forbidden to nail, apply screws or other invasive support equipment both on the stage and in the theater hall.

Any equipment you may be going to use in order to support the technical equipment already prepared in the Teatrino Civico, must be certified in accordance with current safety regulations.

Otherwise their usage will not be allowed and only the equipment already supplied by the theater will be allowed.

It is forbidden to make changes to the structure and to install fixed equipment.

The Technical Manager is exempt from any liability for any theft, accidents or damage to personal and/or props.

Users undertake to view the spaces and to provide for the restoration and cleaning of the premises, returning them in the same state in which they were received.

The Technical Manager (Cultural Association "Blue Room") does not take charge of any tasks of preparation, portage, rental of furniture, additional amplification facilities, as well as surveillance and security.

The theatre technician will be present for as long as the Company will be in charge of the theatre; he is the only one authorized to operate, on the indication of the Company, on the technical equipment supplied to the hall.

During the show, the Company can operate in the control station with its own technicians or avail itself of the assistance of the theater technician.

The responsible of the Company will be provided, on request, the telephone number of the room technician for any further information and clarification.
